THE IMPERIAL SPEECH.

EMPEROR WILLIAM TO THE REICHSTAG.
The Efficiency of the Army to Be Increased to Insure Peace - The Slave Traffic in Zanzibar - Foreign.

BERLIN, Oct. 23. - The Reichstag was opened today. A speech from the throne was read by the imperial minister, Herr von Bismarck. He began by declaring that the aim of the present Reichstag had been directed to securing peace abroad and at home.

The attention of the Reichstag is now invited to the development of the efficiency of the army so that it may be in readiness for action as events may occur, and thereby assist the Emperor and his allies in preserving peace.

A bill will be introduced to strengthen the organization of the army and navy. A financial statement to be presented shortly will show considerable increase in material contributions of the several states to the imperial treasury.

The hopes expressed by the Kaiser in his speech from the throne last November that peace would be maintained have been realized, and the Emperor has gained strength as regards the future. Existing treaties justify the belief that peace is secured for the coming year. The speech produced an excellent effect on the house. In the Reichstag it was received with enthusiasm.

LONDON, Oct. 23. - Letters received by the Anti-Slavery Society from Zanzibar assert that the slave traffic is openly carried on in the streets of that city at the weekly markets, where slaves are written for sale with placards describing around their necks, on which their prices are expressed.

Women sell, if young, for from £5 to £10 each. The capital for business is understood to be furnished by a rich firm of traders, the members of which are English. It is further declared that the local officials are in the pay of this firm, which thus secures immunity for its traffic.

AN INGENUOUS TRICK.
How the Clairvoyant Reads Sealed Letters to an Audience.

One of the puzzling tricks performed by so-called public mind readers or clairvoyants is an extremely simple deception. The performer standing on the stage asks several persons in the audience to write each a sentence on a slip of paper and seal it in an envelope. Of course the stationery is furnished and afterwards collected. One of the audience is a confederate and writes a sentence agreed upon beforehand. When the assistant goes through the boxes gathering up the envelopes the confederate's contribution is carefully put where it will be the last one of the lot to be taken up.

The performer picks out an envelope and after feeling of it with much ceremony pronounces the sentence agreed upon and the confederate in the audience acknowledges that he wrote it. To confirm this the performer tears open the envelope and repeats the sentence as though he found it on the inclosed paper, which is in reality another man's sentence which he reads, and then picking up another envelope and fumbling it over, he calls out the sentence he has just read. The one who wrote it says it is right, the performer tears open the envelope, reads what is in it, and proceeds in that way through the lot.

Mercurian Strength.
Continually on the strain, or overtaxed at intervals, is far less desirable than ordinary vigor perpetuated by rational diet and exercise, and abstention from excess. Professional pugilists and athletes rarely attain extreme old age. As ordinary vigor may be retained by a wise regard for sanitary living, and the protection against disease which timely and judicious medication affords, so also it may be lost through prolonged sedentary labor, interrupted mental strain, and foolish eating and drinking, the chief causes of the degeneration of the system, being dyspepsia. For this condition, thus, or in any way induced, and for its offspring, a failure of muscular and nerve power, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most effective and most general remedy. It not only induces, but it cures, loss of flesh, appetite and sleep are remedied by it. Incipient malaria and rheumatism are banished, bowel and liver complaint removed by it.

Advice to Mothers.
Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the inflamed membrane, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea, 80c a bottle.

LAST NUMBER OF THE "REVIEW."

Presbyterians to Discontinue the Publication of Their Magazine.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23. - The October number of the Presbyterian Review, which will be issued in a few days, will be the last number of that magazine. At a recent meeting of the association, composed of members from the Princeton, Lane, Chicago, Allegheny, and Auburn theological seminaries, it was decided to discontinue the publication.

This action was not unexpected by many ministers of the church. It has been known that there was a difference of opinion between the managing editors representing the seminary and the Princeton seminary upon certain questions in the church. A well known minister says: "When the Review was founded it was intended to be the expression of all shades of opinion in the Presbyterian church. The principle adopted for the conduct of the magazine when founded was that of strictly co-ordinate editorship. At the close of the tenth year the Review radical differences of opinion developed within the editorial management, leading to the resignations of editors and finally to an action for the discontinuance of the Review. D. J. CONGANNON.

—The N. O. W. club held a pleasant social dancing party last evening at the Army, with Smith & Anderson in the orchestra. There was a good number of young people present, and all indulged in a right merry time.

—Died, at six o'clock last evening, a home of his son, Fred H. Bennwitz, No. 310 Locust street, Mr. Bennwitz, aged seventy eight years. The funeral will be held from the Lutheran Church, Friday afternoon, at three o'clock.

—During the progress of last night's fire, forty thousand gallons of water were pumped by the water company, indicating that nearly that quantity was thrown on the fire. There is no mistake about it, that for a time there were two powerful streams, and two or three of the boys had a jolly time wrestling with a pipe. The pressure was so heavy that they were thrown from the ladder, and for a moment the pipe got the best of them, making quite a scattering of the crowd.

—The funeral of the late Patrick Skelley, of the town of Rock, was held from St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock this morning. A very large number of people attended, and the impressive services were conducted by the Rev. Father Casey. At the conclusion of the services at the church the remains were taken to Mount Olivet cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs. John Lacey, Michael Matthias, Patrick Bradley, John Burns, Patrick Kaneoran and Patrick Clark.

—The following from the Milwaukee Journal explains the notice published in last evening's Gazette: At 7 o'clock this morning, while Fardly Murphy, a tanner's helper, was sitting on the platform at the Northwestern depot, he was struck in the head by a passing engine, and so badly hurt that he died soon after being taken to the Emergency hospital.

The deceased has relatives in Janesville. He was about 45 years of age, and boarded at 241 Michigan street. The inquest will be held at 10 a. m. to-morrow.

—A main street clerk was standing on the edge of the sidewalk in front of his store the other day talking to a friend when a prominent M. D. drove up and taking one of the supplies of the D. C.'s many form for a telegraph pole, hitched his horse to it. All went well until the drug clerk saw a customer go into the store and then he discovered that he had "a string" (or rather a strap) tied to him. He said he was "blessed" (we think that was the word) if that was not the first time he was taken for a hitching post. The jeweler is still wondering which one had his "eye fall."

—The National Magazine for November will contain among other articles "Comparative Philology," by Professor Schole de Vere, Ph. D., J. U. D. The loving couple were united in marriage by Dean McGinnity at the hour above named. The groom is a young and prosperous railroad man, his home being in Baraboo. Mr. and Mrs. Maher will go to Milwaukee to-morrow, where they will spend a few days visiting friends, thence to their home in Baraboo.

A TRAIN WELL GUARDED.

SEVENTY U. S. SOLDIERS LOOKED FOR THE ST. PAUL EXPRESS.

Two blue-coated soldiers guarded a coach on the St. Paul express as it stood at the Northwestern depot this morning. What they were there for was hard to say. No one was in sight but the baggage man and a back driver, who looked unusually peaceful. But the blue-coats kept their air of stiff-marked responsibility just the same. Where they came from was explained by a glance inside the car. In every seat were two sturdy young men in blue overcoats and with the white cross belts of Uncle Sam's service. There were seventy of them, twenty-five of them being colored. They made up Company H, of the Seventh Regiment, United States Infantry and they were on their way from Chicago to St. Paul. In command was Lieutenant K. M. Arthur, formerly of Wisconsin. The company will go into camp at Fort Snelling near St. Paul, but in November will be transferred to the Yellowstone division and put on duty in the region of the National Park.

A PECULIAR INDUSTRY.

Raising of Kids for their Skins by the French Mountaineers.

The raising of kids for their skins is a principal industry among the French mountaineers, and it supplies no small part of their subsistence. Softness, delicacy of texture and freedom from blemish are principal factors in the value of kid skins, and to secure this the mountaineers are very particular in the principal thing and mother's milk is what keeps the kid in perfect condition for the uses of the glove. As soon as the young animal begins to eat grass the value of the skin declines, for with a grass diet its skin immediately begins to grow coarser and harder in texture, and its chief merit vanishes. It is, therefore, kept closely penned, not only to prevent it from eating grass, but also to secure its skin from accident from scratches, bruises, etc., which are fatal to perfection. When the kids have reached a certain age, at which the skins are in the best condition for the use of the glove, they are killed, and the skins are sold to traveling hawkers, through whom they reach the great centers of the tanning industry at Annanay, Milbau, Paris and Grenoble.

The superior quality of these kid skins, due to climatic causes, it is that France the supremacy in the manufacture of the finest grades of real kid gloves—a supremacy that will doubtless be long maintained, inasmuch as foreign manufacturers must in general resort to second-rate skins, unless they maintain agents on the ground, a policy that some English and American houses have found necessary.

GENTLEMEN OF AMERICA.

Any One Is Entitled to the Term in This Country.

The Cincinnati Commercial has discovered that there are no class and caste and rank distinctions and no coat of arms to entitle a man to the name of gentleman in America. Mr. Jones, or Mr. Smith, or Mr. Dinkenspell, or Mr. Flaherty, if successful in business, does not put coats of arms on their carriage doors and table linens, and there is nothing to prevent them. The name means nothing in this country except that it denotes a gentleman; it rather detracts. As there are no "noblemen" by birth in this land, so there are no "gentlemen" by right of lineage, except as one does credit in his own person and character and conduct to his ancestry.

In humble homes can be found men entitled to the name "gentleman" in the best and truest sense of the word, as it enters into the life of the republic, and in the most sumptuous mansions can be found ciphers who claim the name because their fathers grew rich in peddling pelts. To be called a gentleman is the proudest triumph a man can win, and to deserve it is to "act well your part; there all the honor lies."

A CROSS IN THE WIRES.

Rattles the Fire Department Last Evening at Seven.

A WILD AND EXCITING RUN.

Louis Kath's Barn Destroyed—Loss Estimated at $300—Partly Insured.

At 6:55 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was turned in from box 43, located at the corner of South Academy street and Washington avenue. The alarm was very imperfectly given at the engine houses and at the water works pumping station. The gongs at either place failed to respond, as did also the indicators. The firemen relying wholly on the indicators in their respective houses failed to count the strokes on the bell, and thereby failed to correctly locate the box.

At the west side engine house the alarm was counted by several persons, some claiming it was 42, others 24, 34 and 21, the "24" seeming to have the majority, the apparatus was started for the east side by way of Milwaukee street bridge. At the east side house—the gong and indicator failed to respond—the men surmised that the alarm was from the west side house, and was being struck by hand. The department was bunched by this operation at the east end of Milwaukee street bridge, where a brief halt was made. Assistant Engineer Osgood was sure the alarm came from box 21, at the corner of North Main street and Fourth avenue, and accordingly the whole force hurried to that locality. A few moments were spent in consultation, during which time a bright illumination was discovered in the direction of Monterey. Talk about quick time. If ever a fire department in these United States got a move on itself was in Janesville last night and the route lay between Fourth avenue and Western avenue at Locust street. The horses fairly flew over the distance. No. 1 hose carriage and the hook and ladder truck crossing over at Fourth avenue bridge, while No. 2 carriage and the patrol wagon retraced down Main to Court street bridge, saving a little of the distance and reaching the scene of the fire a few rods in advance. The fire was in the barn of Louis Kath at 307 Locust street, the barn being well in flames when the department arrived. Two very heavy streams of water were put on the building, the engineer at the pumping station receiving through the imperfect working of the alarm machinery, a call for direct pressure, and he gave it once. Soon, however, the officers directed a decrease in pressure to allow the men the better opportunity to handle the pipes. The fire was soon extinguished.

There were three horses and a cow in the barn, besides one ton of hay, a load of straw and about one hundred bushels of oats. The horses were first taken out in safety, but the cow was dragged out, nearly dead, but soon revived, and is now all right.

The barn was insured for $100 by Simon Stasnes, of Oxford. The loss on barn and contents is estimated at about three hundred dollars.

Just how the fire originated is a mystery—Mr. Kath was in the barn last at half past five, at which time everything was all right. The fire was first discovered by his son, a few moments before the alarm was sent in from box 43, when he discovered the whole upper part in flames. It was evidently set on fire by someone, but Mr. Kath is at a loss even to surmise who should hold such a grudge against him.

This is the second time the barn has been fired. On February 23, 1888, at 8:13 p. m., the barn was partly destroyed by a fire originating in a similar manner, the exact cause never being made known. This loss is a severe one to Mr. Kath, his barn being almost a total wreck, the whole interior being destroyed.

The failure of the alarm system to correctly indicate the location of the fire was a source of much severe and just criticism, as this the second time within a few weeks that a failure has occurred in the fourth and fifth wards. In both cases the difficulty has proved to be in the disarrangements or entanglements of the wires, and not the fault of the machinery. These little disarrangements should be discovered before, rather than after such a bad break as that of last evening, or the one which occurred at the Monterey woolen mills. In plain English—without French accent—this alarm system should be placed in the hands of the chief of the fire department, and he alone should be held responsible for its working. It matters not whom he employs to watch the wire circuit, the lines should be kept close watch of and no parties be better able to do this than the members of the department under orders from the chief, and they have plenty of time to straighten out the wires and make repairs. Nevertheless, accidents will sometimes happen, with the best of care.

In the case of last evening, the wires were crossed between the water works pumping house and the residence of Engineer Spickler, just across the street, thus forming an imperfect connection, allowing a current just strong enough to operate the tower clock work, but not sufficient to work the gongs and indicators. The difficulty was remedied this morning and the line at this time is in perfect working order.

Success in life is the result of push and energy. If the blood is impure and sluggish, both body and mind lack vigor. To cleanse and vitalized the blood and impart new life to the system, nothing else has such a marvelous effect as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A FINE YOUNG PACING STALLION.

In our report of the races at the Rock county fair on Friday, Sept. 13th, we failed to mention the performance of Mr. H. B. Woodruff's three-year-old pacing stallion, "Alessandro," that made a record of 2:34; on that day. The performance of Alessandro during that week were remarkable and are worthy of note at this time. While his record of 2:34; stands as the fastest mile ever made by a three-year-old on the Janesville track, he showed a rate of speed during the week that has rarely been equaled by horses of any age. At the beginning of the week he was given the first full mile he ever had, which he made in 2:33 in company with Mr. George Davis' "Sivard" by Robert Fulton, after which he was given a repeat alone in 2:37. The following Wednesday afternoon he was given half mile in 1:13, making a quarter in 35.4 seconds, a 2:21 gait. While this was a faster gait than Mr. Woodruff supposed he was going, he was not in the habit of working under a watch, he was quite certain that the colt had not extended himself or gone as fast as he had done in his former work, so on Thursday he determined to work him out for a quarter. He was brought out on Thursday afternoon and with very little warming up paced the back quarter of the track alone with apparent ease in 32.4 seconds a 2:10 gait. While this time seems incredible for so young a horse and one that has had very moderate training, it can easily be verified as it was caught by a number of timers in the grand stand. On Friday Mr. Woodruff requested of President Pember, who was acting as starter, the privilege of driving the colt for a record. It was granted and he was started without preliminaries, going to the half mile pole in 1:14, when he broke and was pulled up, jogged to the wire and started again making the mile easily without a skip in 2:34. While this was a good mile it was something of a disappointment to many who had seen him go on the previous day. In explanation of this Mr. Woodruff says that he intended to make even 2:30 and depended on the driver who accompanied him with a trotter to fix the pace at that rate.

Alessandro is a grey roan, 15½ hands high with great muscular development, and a clean intelligent head. He was sired by Geo. Sprague, 5-year-old, record 2:21; he by Geo. Sprague, 6-year-old record 2:20½; dam by Dan Brown, 2:21, sire of Jennie B., 2:30; 21 dam by Gen. Gifford, by Gifford Morgan; 34 dam by Brown's Belfounder.

The Buckleton Stock Farm was also successful in the show ring taking first premium for stallion over 4 years old, in the trotters and roadsters' class with Forest Bassett, a full brother to the great pacer, Johnston, 2:06½; first with their two-year-old stallion, Merlin, by Geo. Sprague, 2:21, and second in the three-year-old class with Alessandro.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

AN INTERESTING SERIES OF ASTRONOMICAL STUDIES.

The Epworth League of Court Street M. E. Church gave a very interesting program at their meeting last evening. The Rev. E. L. Eaton, pastor of Court Street Church, directed the study and by the aid of a powerful microscope many points of interest were brought out. Mr. Eaton has one of the best private telescopes in the state, which will be used in connection with the microscope, in the literary work of the society during the winter.

The meetings will be held in the Sunday school rooms on Tuesday evening of each week, and the public are cordially invited to attend.
